

The Cosmos of Time

13 Facts alone already prove

The Definition of Time consists of:

The Force of Time,
The Speed of Time and
The Realm of Time

Coupled with:

The 3 dimensions of the Universe:

The Arrow of the Force of Time, the first dimension,
The Matrix-Sphere, the second,
The surrounding E.M. Mantle the third.

The above structures of Time and Universe are based on the following facts:

Maxwell's basic finding that two layers in the structure of the Universe are quadratic to one another, is in itself already sufficient to prove dimensional separation. Which holds that most basic processes of nature are hidden from our view.

The Flow of Energy runs and proves Universal Metabolism.

The Arrow-of-Time of the first dimension injects time-energy in flat second-dimensional waves into the Matrix, from where Jets fuse the overflowing energy into third dimensional "matter" that they shoot high-up into the Matrix' Mantle. There the Recoil Force takes over, concentrating the "matter" on its way down into galaxies in mixed layers. To finally redeposit all matter created back onto the two dimensional Matrix. The energy waves flow un-interrupted, create, grow, maintain and re-take as pure energy all matter once created. Completing the Metabolic turn-around from energy into matter and back again into original energy.

The process how the Jets are born and shoot up is confirmed by comparing the Jets with Quasar behaviour as described by Prof. Halton Arp, Max Planck Institute, Munich.

On their passage through galaxies and solar systems, torn-off slivers from the descending layers of mixed content have recently been found back as frequent discontinuities deep down the Earth Crust in the 12 km. deep hole drilled by the Russians in Siberia. These discontinuities found are clear proof of descending Recoil layers and their mixed content.

Prof Joseph Davinovit's method of mixing crushed limestone with other liquid substances in boxes to harden to lime-stone concrete, confirms one way the Pyramids might have been built.

Besides Davinovit, during my long years away in the bush, I learned that besides limestone, many more mud mixtures do harden into building material.

Look how the Mayas, the Incas, the Aztecs, the Anchor-Watts and other civilisations made use of what they had just “at hand”. Advanced civilisations placed their open at the bottom and open at the side boxes leaning against the already half hardened previous moulded stones, thus giving it the perfect fit one could not get a knife in between.

On our Earth former galactic downpours of mixtures of sands, clays, silts and salts widely spread all-over the Globe show still up in frequent “playas”.

That galactic downpours happened in human times is proven by:

- 1) the 14 ships covered by a thick layer of sand in the dessert far from river and sea between the Nile and the Red Sea.
- 2) by the proven originally muddy, downpour layers that blanketed whole mountains, broad lands and at the time even human settlements that must have disappeared suddenly.

The evidence of the frequency of downpours suggest that the Earth Crust has to thank its thickness for the greater part from galactic downpours and hardly from any volcanic activity of the Upper Mantle below.

Hubble’s discovery of parallel lines on the MWBR background confirm that the Universe must be two-dimensional based, in our case on the Matrix!

Hubble’s discovery of the Great Attractor accelerating the whole visible Universe towards it, confirms the Universal Metabolism.

That millions upon millions of stellar objects and galaxies that ever have been cartographed have disappeared into nowhere likewise confirm the Universal Metabolism.

Today’s Red-shift that is indicative of the differences in the Recoil Force and relevant approach speeds of celestial objects on their way back toward the Matrix Sphere, is the next proof of Metabolism. And where one speaks of Metabolism, one speaks of “Life”!

“Life” confirmed by the Carnegie Institute of Science conclusion that half of known minerals could not have been created without the interference of “Live”.

And, talking about “Life”: the probability that DNAs, are “spun” between the advancing time-energy helices, that coil around each other and store and transmit gene-info?

Wherever one looks in the Universe, one finds facts confirming < the Cosmos of Time >

Thirteen hereby confirmed above

Closing the present introduction by challenging the Peers of Astrology and specially their Highnesses of Wikipedia to find any scientific mistake in the “Cosmos of Time”